N	Many countries now think that cars that burn fossil fuels should be replaced by electric cars. Electric cars don't burn gasoline in the engine, so they don't pollute the air. They use electricity stored on the car in batteries. Sometimes, 12 or 24 batteries, or more, are needed to power the car. Just like a remote-controlled car, an electric car has an electric motor that turns the wheels and a battery to run the motor. Electricity, the same energy that lights your lamps and runs your TV, is stored in batteries on an electric car. The batteries can be like the batteries you find in flashlights or in regular gasoline cars. To get the battery ready to roll, you have to charge it. This process isn't much different from the way you charge the portable devices you carry around every day: your cell phone, MP3 player, or digital camera. The difference is that you deal with a much bigger gadget that carries you around instead. The electric car is usually plugged in at night. The car can be plugged into a special charging unit even at houses. Some electric cars can be plugged right into a regular electrical wall outlet. Others need a larger outlet, like the kind that a stove or a vacuum cleaner plugs into. The engineers are trying to make better batteries that hold more energy and last longer. To overcome the problem of charging electric cars, hybrid cars are also available. Hybrid cars combine the benefits of gasoline engines and electric motors. They can be designed to meet different goals, such as better fuel economy or more power. 41. 	Questions	Points
O	Endangered animals are one of the most important issues that are affecting the earth today. Endangered animals are any species of animals that are at significant risk of extinction due to the dramatic drop in their population and habitat destruction. All life on earth is part of nature, and all species are dependent on each other to maintain the planet's ecosystem. Removing one species from the system will have some bad effects. Scientists estimate that 100 to 10,000 species — from microscopic organisms to large plants and animals — go extinct each year. This is 100 to 1,000 times faster than historical extinction rates. The current extinction is most likely the result of human activity, especially over the past century. There are many things that people can do to help save endangered species from becoming extinct. Species can become extinct when humans overhunt, pollute the environment and destroy habitats. Besides, “Mining companies, oil companies, and large-scale agricultural operations threaten defenseless species to a great degree by their extractive activities and development plans”. Perhaps the greatest threat that many species face is the widespread destruction of habitat. Scientists tell us the best way to protect endangered species is to protect the special places where they live. Wildlife must have places to find food, shelter and raise their young. Endangered species, habitats should be protected and these impacts minimized. 45. What is the main idea of the passage? 1) Endangered animals as the most important issues 2) Danger of extinction of animals one of the most essential problems 3) Our planet and its dangerous issues 4) All life on earth as part of nature 46. The word “besides” in line 10 is closest in meaning to 1) in addition 2) next to 3) next 4) therefore 47. According to the passage, all are correct EXCEPT that.... 1) The present extinction is most possibly the result of human activity 2) Deleting one species from the system will have some bad effects. 3) The best approach to keep endangered species is to protect the special homes. 4) Species can become extinct when humans hardly ever overhunt.	1.5

	Questions	Points
	Reading	2.5
J	Read the passage and answer the questions. Dr Asadi is answering this important question: “why is it important to care for our elders?” I think first of all, we need to remember that they are our mothers and fathers, and our first teachers. They teach us how to love, how to care, how to forgive, and how to accept. Second, elders have more knowledge and wisdom than any one of us. They’ve come so far and they’ve learned so much, we have a responsibility to learn from that wisdom. But the most important thing is their experience. We may or may not know of all the ups and downs they’ve faced in life but they’ve definitely gained experience that is worth respecting and learning from. Our elders may hide much pain from us because they don’t want us to feel the pain. The least we can do is appreciate them for all they’ve gone through and learn from their insight into situations. Yet another important thing is our heritage and culture. We have much to learn from our parents regarding our heritage, to be proud of our past. This heritage and history brings a sense of belonging. Most importantly, it brings us a sense of identity of our past and the responsibility to protect it for our future generations. What I can add at the end is the role of our parents’ morals, values, and principles in our lives. Our elders have either learned, created or have been brought up with a set of morals, values and principles in their lives. Our elders want the best for us and they are willing to tell us what set of rules and guidelines have made them successful, peaceful and hopefully. 45. Our elders are our first teachers because we learn the essential principles of life from them. (True / False) 46. The most important point that heritage brings us is a sense of belonging. (True / False) 47. What does “them” in the eighth line of paragraph 1 refer to? 48. Write the best title for the text? 49. Explain the role of heritage in our life?	2.5
