Because of Land Rover , the Rover company became stronger and started producing luxury cars again . They listened to the customers' idea , and made changes to the design in 1958, 1972 and 1983 . 	Questions	Points
	Reading	2.5
J	Read the passage and answer the questions. Dr Asadi is answering this important question: “why is it important to care for our elders?” I think first of all, we need to remember that they are our mothers and fathers, and our first teachers. They teach us how to love, how to care, how to forgive, and how to accept. Second, elders have more knowledge and wisdom than any one of us. They’ve come so far and they’ve learned so much, we have a responsibility to learn from that wisdom. But the most important thing is their experience. We may or may not know of all the ups and downs they’ve faced in life but they’ve definitely gained experience that is worth respecting and learning from. Our elders may hide much pain from us because they don’t want us to feel the pain. The least we can do is appreciate them for all they’ve gone through and learn from their insight into situations. Yet another important thing is our heritage and culture. We have much to learn from our parents regarding our heritage, to be proud of our past. This heritage and history brings a sense of belonging. Most importantly, it brings us a sense of identity of our past and the responsibility to protect it for our future generations. What I can add at the end is the role of our parents’ morals, values, and principles in our lives. Our elders have either learned, created or have been brought up with a set of morals, values and principles in their lives. Our elders want the best for us and they are willing to tell us what set of rules and guidelines have made them successful, peaceful and hopefully. 45. Our elders are our first teachers because we learn the essential principles of life from them. (True / False) 46. The most important point that heritage brings us is a sense of belonging. (True / False) 47. What does “them” in the eighth line of paragraph 1 refer to? 48. Write the best title for the text? 49. G	Reading Comprehension : Running is excellent exercise. Before you start running, you should warm up first, using slow movements that make all your muscles work. But be careful! If you stretch when your muscles are cold, you might do yourself an injury. Always wear comfortable clothing and make sure your trainers (shoes) are in good shape. If you wear shoes that give good support to your whole foot, you will put less pressure on your knees. You should start exercising slowly, at a speed you can keep up for about 15 - 20 minutes. It is ok if you sometimes go to bed late but if you regularly cut down on your sleep, it will soon start to have a bad effect on your skin. If you get a good night's rest, it will do your appearance the world of good. It is not called beauty sleep for nothing! Lack of sleep can cause acne or dry skin. Make sure you get a good night's sleep. Go to bed and get up at regular times. During the day, keep active: Get sufficient exercise so that you can sleep well at night. Did you know that standing, sitting and walking badly can make you look heavier than you really are? If we watched the way we sat and stood, it would improve our appearance very much. Stand in front of the mirror with your feet apart and your legs straight. Pull in your tummy , check that your ears, shoulders, hips, knees and ankles are in line with each other. You should be feeling and looking better already! 22. Some parents, however, are not good sports. They shout at their kids. Others make fun of umpires and kids on the field. A few even run onto the field during games. Those parents are spoiling the game. Mike Blackwell decided to do something about the problem. He is a city official in New Brunswick, New Jersey. Therefore, city officials got together and came up with a solution—baseball fields that separate parents from the players. Kids in New Brunswick now have three new baseball fields. Two of the fields are built on mounds that are 6 feet high. Parents cannot see over the mounds. "The only location for parents to watch their kids play is in the bleachers," said Blackwell. The bleachers separate parents from the dugouts. There are also fences that keep parents off the fields. Blackwell is very excited about the new sports center. He told Weekly Reader, "We have more kids that want to play now. We have more volunteer coaches now. When I was a kid in New York state, we lived for baseball. I want kids to enjoy the game," he said. Both parents and kids need to be good sports. They should follow the rules, cheer for their teammates, learn from their coach, and treat others with respect.	4

K	You may already be practicing techniques that decrease stress, like yoga or meditation, but there is another way to relieve stress: lending a helping hand to someone in need. At first, you might worry that giving other people your time and attention will only make your schedule busier, but research has shown that helping others benefits your mental and physical health. A 2015 study published in the Clinical Psychological Science journal found that helping others can relieve stress. Though it was a small study, the results were eye-opening. Seventy-seven adults between the ages of 18 and 44 participated in the study. Each night, they received an automated call reminding them to complete a daily questionnaire. The questions asked participants about stressful events in their day, such as their responsibilities at home and work, relationship with family and friends, and money management. Participants were also asked to keep track of their helpful behaviors, any small acts of kindness they did, and the emotions related to these behaviors. The researchers found that participants who performed more daily acts of kindness were less likely to feel stressed. On days when they could not complete any acts of kindness, participants reported more stress and negativity. 39. 	Questions	Points
L	Read the passage and answer the questions. A newborn baby can see, hear and feel. By the age of five, a child can talk and ride a bike. How does this development happen? We don't really understand the way language and thinking develop in the brain. Now scientists are using new technology to help them in their studies. They are discovering new information about the way a baby's brain develops. A study in 2010 showed that the experiences a child has in their first few years are important. These experiences affect the development of the brain. The study showed when children receive more attention, they often have higher IQs. Babies receive information when they see, hear and feel things. This information makes connections between different parts of the brain. There are a hundred trillion connections in the brain of a three-year-old child. One experiment studied how newborn babies' brains react to different sounds. The sounds were in different patterns. For example, the sounds mu-ba-ba make the pattern 'A-B-B'. And the sounds mu-ba-ge make the pattern 'A-B-C'. The results of the study showed that babies know the two patterns are different. Patterns are important in language. The order of words is important to grammar and meaning. For example, 'John killed the bear' doesn't mean the same as 'The bear killed John'. Both sentences have the same words, but they are in a different order. The experiment shows that babies start to learn grammar rules from the beginning of their life. Language is important for child development. Babies can hear language in various ways: listening to television, audio books or the Internet and interacting with people. A scientist, Patricia Kuhl, compared two groups of nine-month-old American babies. Both groups heard Mandarin Chinese sounds. The first group watched videos. In the second group, people spoke the same sounds to the babies. Then they tested the babies. The second group recognized the different sounds. The first group learned nothing. Patricia Kuhl said this result was very surprising. It shows that social interaction is important to successful brain development in babies. 43. L	Read the passages and answer the questions. You may already be practicing techniques that decrease stress, like yoga or meditation, but there is another way to relieve stress: lending a helping hand to someone in need. At first, you might worry that giving other people your time and attention will only make your schedule busier, but research has shown that helping others benefits your mental and physical health. A 2015 study published in the Clinical Psychological Science journal found that helping others can relieve stress. Though it was a small study, the results were eye-opening. Seventy-seven adults between the ages of 18 and 44 participated in the study. Each night, they received an automated call reminding them to complete a daily questionnaire. The questions asked participants about stressful events in their day, such as their responsibilities at home and work, relationship with family and friends, and money management. Participants were also asked to keep track of their helpful behaviors, any small acts of kindness they did, and the emotions related to these behaviors. The researchers found that participants who performed more daily acts of kindness were less likely to feel stressed. On days when they could not complete any acts of kindness, participants reported more stress and negativity. 43. O	متن زیر را بخوانید و به سوالات داده شده در هر قسمت پاسخ دهید. Just imagine how many English dictionaries there are in the world. How do you know which one is the best for you? Let's look at three types of English dictionaries. Bilingual dictionaries: This is probably the first type of dictionary that you bought when you started to study English. Usually, the first half gives the English words along with their meanings in another language and the second half gives the words in the other language first, and then their meanings in English. This kind of dictionary is suitable for those who have just started learning. You can quickly find how to translate a word from your language into English. But sometimes the meaning of the English word is a bit different from the word in the other language. Also this kind of dictionary encourages the students to translate instead of thinking in English. Monolingual dictionaries: These dictionaries use just one language to explain the meanings of the words. These dictionaries are good for students with a more advanced level of English. Monolingual dictionary encourages people to think in English and help them practice their English reading skills. Electronic dictionaries: Both monolingual and bilingual dictionaries are available in electronic format. Electronic dictionaries can be really useful if they are properly used. This is especially true with regard to pronunciation, as they often have an audio feature that lets you hear the word spoken. This lets you check your pronunciation. 52. A monolingual dictionary improves your English reading skills.                      a) True      b) False 53. When reading or writing a story, an essay, a paragraph or even a sentence, using a dictionary is a great help. There are many advantages of using a dictionary. So, using a dictionary is important for students. The first advantage of using a dictionary is pronunciation. We can also listen to the pronunciation of the words if we use an audio dictionary. The second advantage of using a dictionary is checking out a word's right spelling. The third advantage of using it is learning a word's part of speech. It is one of the types into which words are divided in grammar according to their use, such as noun, verb, or adjective. Lastly, example sentences are mostly available. Seeing specific words used in a sentence can provide more context and help you better understand proper usage. However, searching words by using a dictionary takes a lot of time. By using a talking dictionary, we are able to look the words up in a few minutes. As a result, a dictionary is a great help for everyone, especially students who are learning a language and who are interested in language learning 54. R	متن زیر را بخوانید و به سوالات آن با دقت پاسخ دهید. In 2011, eight percent of children eight years old and younger used mobile devices daily. That's according to a report from Common Sense Media. This organization studies issues of concern to teachers and families. By 2015, their report shows that the figure had more than doubled. Many pediatricians are concerned. In my view, they are right to be. These caring doctors state that this trend is disturbing and needs attention. They focus on data indicating that excessive media use by young children is linked to fatness, lack of sleep, and aggressiveness. They also know that too much media use negatively affects school performance. The American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP) suggests a plan to handle the problem. The doctors encourage families to set rules about TV consumption, texting, internet surfing, and social media use. They recommend limiting all four. As I see it, they are the people who know best. 60. Which of the following best describes the author's view towards children's use of mobile phones and other media devices? a) Excited                      b) Careful                      c) Anxious                      d) Economic 61.
